

New Cross-Valley Bus Service Through Abbotsford Starts Soon

Returned Men Inaugurate Service to Border And Routes Serving North Side Communities

A cross-valley bus service between Huntingdon and Mission City via Abbotsford, together with services linking Hatzic Island, Hatzic and Mission City, and Mission City, Stave Falls, Websters Corners and Haney, are announced this week.

Principals in the new passenger and express services are two well known Fraser Valley young men recently returned from Overseas after several years' service with the RCAF, Flt. Lieut. Jack Routledge and Sgt. Jim Routledge of Mission City. They are sons of P. H. Routledge, garageman and noted miniature railway operator of Mission City.

Through connections with the Sumas City, Wn.,-Bellingham bus service and the east and west bus services on both sides of the Fraser Valley will be provided by the new transportation company to be known as Fraser Valley Stage Lines.

It is expected that operations will commence about November 1. Two new, conventional type buses, each with a capacity of 29 passengers, are on order and due to arrive toward the end of this month. Express service between all points, north and south, east and west, will be provided. The buses will make their return trips between the centres served on the respective routes.

T. B. STRAITON SELLS STORE AND POST OFFICE

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Straiton, pioneer residents of the district which was named after Mr. Straiton, are enroute to Florida for a well-earned rest. After operating the Straiton post office for the past 45 or more years, Mr. Straiton has turned over his store and post office to Cecil R. Bowen, the worries which go along with the task of handling the mail have been forgotten and he's determined to enjoy to the full the glories of the Florida coast.

It was away back in 1894 that Mr. Straiton arrived in the little hamlet which later became Abbotsford. There was a little store and post office on the present location of the Pioneer Market and the proprietor of the establishment agreed to give Mr. Straiton a room for the night. After a good look around the district, Mr. Straiton homesteaded in the area which was later given his name. He built a store and operated the post office and took pleasure in seeing the district grow from an area where neighbors were few and far between to its present well-settled status. In 1940, Mr. Straiton erected a new store in order to take care of the increased business which had been the result of the continued growth of the district.

On their return from Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Straiton will return to their home.

DRIVERS ESCAPE INJURY IN TWO ACCIDENTS

There were two highway accidents in the M-S-A district on Saturday evening, and although all three cars involved were considerably damaged, none of the drivers or passengers in the vehicles sustained injuries. In the first mishap taking place about 7 o'clock when a car driven by Mervin Knowles of Vancouver collided with a light delivery truck driven by Miss Ann Shimek of Hatzic at the Gibbard corner on the Abbotsford-Mission highway. Both vehicles were damaged.

Second accident occurred at 8:35 p.m., when a car driven by Geo. Leong turned over about one mile east of Abbotsford on the Trans-Canada highway. The driver of the car had turned sharply to avoid striking a cyclist, causing the car to turn over into the drainage ditch. Top of the vehicle was badly damaged.

LIEUT. SAMBROOKE RETURNS HOME AFTER FOUR YEARS SERVICE

Lieut. W. L. Sambrooke, B.E.-M.E. of RCME, has arrived back in Canada after four years' service with the Canadian Army in France, Holland and Germany. With Mrs. Sambrooke, he is now visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sambrooke, and his sisters, Donna and Myra of Abbotsford. Another sister, Mrs. Charles Brown, is now enroute to her new home in England.

After enlisting in Calgary, Lieut. Sambrooke trained at various military camps in Canada before going overseas. With his unit, he was in the thick of the fighting right up until the time of the German collapse and eventual surrender.

Speaker Upholds Free Enterprise System in Canada

Andrew Balakshin Addresses Members Of Lions' Club

"Free Enterprise and Planned Economy" was the subject of an interesting address given at the regular meeting of the Abbotsford Lions Club last Thursday evening by Andrew Balakshin of Chilliwack.

Mr. Balakshin discussed the position of the Canadian people and of the whole world in the time of peace. "The war is over, but the peace is not yet won", said the speaker, in dealing with unrest in all parts of the world. "Europe and the far East are in ruin. The people in those countries are starving and must be fed. We must be prepared to deal with this situation in order to avoid another war. The next war would mean the end of civilization."

The speaker traced the economic system of the world from the beginning of mankind. He explained the changes that had taken place and declared that nearly all changes in the world's economy had brought bloodshed. "We must stop and think", he warned.

In Better Position Mr. Balakshin stated that Canada is in a far better position after Great War II than it was after the last Great War. This condition was brought about by the regulation and control of prices and consumption. "Now that the war is over, what is to be done?" he asked.

In his opinion we must keep all wartime controls or remove them and leave the problems in the hands of free enterprise.

The speaker called for the development of B.C. industries. As an example, he cited the fact that steel is shipped from eastern mills to build ships in the west. "This is unfair", he declared.

In concluding his address Mr. Balakshin stated that the governments must have men of wide vision and knowledge in order to cope the many problems that are facing us today.

Four new members were present and will be inducted into the club at the next meeting. These members are Ken Shore, Art Taylor, Jack Evans and Charlie McIntosh.

Lion Victor Kouritzon spoke to the members on the ticket selling campaign to be held on Wednesday, Oct. 10, when the District of Sumas will be completely canvassed for subscriptions to the drawing in aid of the M.S.A. Hospital.

It will be shown at Aldergrove on Tuesday, Oct. 16, and at Matsqui on Thursday, Oct. 18, both at 8 p.m. It is understood that additional films on the program on these occasions will include, "Ships and Men", "Fighting Sea Fleas", "Canada Screen Magazine" and a news reel.

SEAMAN-MINER TO TAKE UP FARMING

Leonard Hoon Returns After Six Years in Africa

A.B. Recorder Leonard Hoon, a former resident of Abbotsford who was recently discharged from the South African Navy after three years' service, has returned home after six years' absence. During his trips to and from Africa and his long residence in that country he has seen many strange ports, places and people. He's enjoyed tropical climates and the delicious fruits which go along with them, but he's going to turn his back on them all to take up farming on the home place of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hoon, who have resided on Marshall Road for the past nine years.

Young Leonard left the parental roof in Abbotsford way back in 1939 for South Africa. He

Twenty-five Veterans and Mr. and Mrs. M. McMath, Parents of Six Servicemen Honored; Addresses by Reeve Simpson, W. R. Redman

Packing the Bradner Community Hall to the doors, more than 300 residents and their friends turned out last Friday night to pay their respects and welcome home local veterans. It was a stirring occasion, the interior decoration of the hall, with the red, white and blue of the flags blending into the autumn colors of maple leaves and flowers, making a setting which will long be remembered by all present. The guests were welcomed at the door by Mrs. A. S. Hansen and Mrs. J. Carmichael.

SUPPORT COALITIONIST

M-S-A District Liberals Endorse Les Eyres

A meeting of the M-S-A District Liberal Association was held on Wednesday evening in Abbotsford at which a resolution was passed endorsing the Coalition Government and the Coalition Candidate.

A committee of three members was appointed to co-operate with a similar committee appointed by the Chilliwack and District Liberal Association in conjunction with the Progressive Conservative Association. Members of the committee are Capt. H. L. Chittenden, Mrs. Hanna Fraser and F. Addison.

While in meeting the body also went on record as supporting and endorsing the building of a federal post office building in Abbotsford at the earliest possible moment.

O. W. Benedict, secretary of the organization, was asked to write George Cruickshank, MP, in an endeavor to obtain speedy action on the proposed project.

Meeting Held Friday

Committee appointed by the M-S-A District Liberals met with the Chilliwack group at the United Church Hall in Abbotsford Friday evening. It was decided to give full support to Les Eyres, Coalition candidate in the forthcoming election and member of the provincial legislature for Chilliwack constituency for the past eight years.

Mr. Eyres spoke briefly during the meeting, outlining the plans made by the Coalition government for rehabilitation of British Columbia's returned soldiers, raising of the standard of education while lowering the heavy taxation burden now borne by municipalities, and his aims in regard to public works.

TOWN PLANNER WILL ADDRESS BUSINESS MEN

Ted Baines, member of the West Vancouver Town Planning Commission and a well-known authority on modern planning, will be the guest speaker at the next regular meeting of the Abbotsford Businessmen's Association, to be held Monday, Oct. 15, at 8 p.m. in Trinity United Church Hall. Following his address, Mr. Baines will join in a general discussion on town planning and members of the association have been requested to prepare a list of questions on the subject.

Long Voyage Home

Able Seaman Hoon went aboard the Canadian steamer Goldstream Park at Cape Town July 24 but it wasn't until last Thursday that the little freighter rounded Brockton Point and tied up in Vancouver harbor. It was a long voyage home, but young Hoon is still on the go. After a re-union with his parents he left Abbotsford Tuesday evening for Ottawa, where he will visit for a month before returning to the Marshall Road farm with his bride of a year, the former Miss Eleanor Edey of Ottawa.

The miner-seaman was married to Miss Edey, a Canadian nurse, in Cape Town in April, 1944. They have seen many parts of the world together, but their venture into the farming business in Abbotsford is something new for both of them. However, they have youth and enthusiasm and that's half the battle in any enterprise!

Sixteen Cases of Clothing Shipped From Abbotsford

Committee Pleased With Response to National Appeal

Sixteen cases of clothing have already been shipped from Abbotsford on response to the National Clothing Collection appeal, and additional shipment are now being made up. For the past week a number of local residents who have volunteered for the work have been busy assisting Mrs. W. Turner, chairman of the local collection committee, in packing the clothing into large boxes. Another volunteer, Harry Conway, trucked the packages to the railway station, and they are now enroute to Lethbridge. In the Alberta city, they will be put through the clearing house and disinfected, after which they will be sent to Europe for distribution among the poorly-clad people of the war-torn areas.

Further donations of clothing will be greatly appreciated by Mrs. Turner and her committee. All parcels should be taken to the Superfluity Shop in Abbotsford and the various articles should be clean and in good repair.

Mrs. Turner has been particularly pleased with the response from country district residents in the drive.

VAUDEVILLE ACTS WILL BE GIVEN AT CARNIVAL

An excellent program of entertainment has been arranged for the Lions Benefit Carnival to be held in Whatcom Road Hall, Friday Oct. 12. The Sather Sisters of Chilliwack, who are well-known in the Fraser Valley for their rhythm singing, will headline a stage show with the Hockaday Troupe of novelty artists. The last-named group will delight the audience with ventriloquism and other features, and in addition, several other acts will be secured to round out the evening's entertainment.

The Lions will provide games for young and old, including Bingo, ball throw and other games of chance, and refreshments will also be available.

Funds derived from the carnival will be donated to Win Fadden, who has suffered heavy fire losses on two occasions during the past few years.

The doors open at 8 p.m. and patrons are asked to be on hand early so as not to miss any of the stage show. There will also be a number of door prizes with a grand door prize of a tri-lite.

X-RAY TESTS NOW BEING TAKEN IN M-S-A DISTRICT

Provincial government's T-B survey is now well underway in the M-S-A Area with X-ray chest tests now being conducted at various points. Over 200 X-ray chest were given in Matsqui by the travelling clinic Tuesday and several hundred additional residents took the tests Wednesday.

Miss Helen Dixon, Miss White and Miss Code, X-ray technicians, and Mr. Smith, are in charge of the work, and they will set up their equipment in the Health Centre at Abbotsford Thursday morning. Local residents have registered for the tests in large numbers and it is expected that the clinic staff will be kept busy until Oct. 18.

Those who have not already registered for the tests may do so by filling out the forms at the Health Centre in Abbotsford or by phoning 39R, 208R and 98.

JUDGEMENT RESERVED

After hearing 14 witnesses give their evidence in the preliminary hearing of W. E. Terry of Vancouver, arraigned in Matsqui police court Tuesday on a charge of manslaughter, Magistrate Milton C. Switzer reserved judgement on the issue of whether or not Terry will be committed for trial in the higher court. He will announce his decision next Tuesday morning. Charge against Mr. Terry was laid following the death of AC1 H. I. Rivkin, RCAF, in a traffic accident near Abbotsford, Aug. 24.

COALITION MEETINGS

Coalition meetings are being arranged by the local committee for the various centres of the M-S-A Area. Les Eyres, M.L.A., told The News today. Mr. Eyres said he hoped, in this way, to be able to meet and hear what the people had to say and tell as many as possible what has been done and what will be done. Plans are being made for a big meeting in Abbotsford, probably on Monday, Oct. 22.

The Loan And The Dairy Farmer

Vital to the welfare of the Fraser Valley in British Columbia is the prosperity of the dairy farmer. He among the agrarian producers has the largest investment, the most continuous operation and the largest gross return. He is the pioneer specialist. Poultry raising, small fruit farming and other specialties have been developed to important proportions, but dairying remains the backbone of Fraser Valley agriculture.

The price of milk and milk products, because of their vital importance to the human diet, has been fixed at pre-war levels. Compensation for this, to offset the increased production costs, has been provided by the Dominion Government by means of subsidies and subventions. This governmental contribution amounted to nearly $1,400,000 last year to the Fraser Valley dairyman, an average of more than $429 per farm or between $35 to $40 per milking cow. The importance of these subsidies to the dairyman is obvious.

Other F.V. farmers also receive benefits through subsidies. Livestock producers of British Columbia receive $2,451,795 last year in feed freight assistance. This amounted to more than $6.00 per ton on grain and mil-feeds brought into British Columbia from other provinces for livestock feed. Fraser Valley dairymen and poultrymen were the largest users of these imports. Another $202,680 was paid on British Columbia canning crops and again Fraser Valley producers benefited. Still other assistance was provided in the nature of fertilizers and lime subsidies, and Fraser Valley growers of field crops, small fruits, vegetables and other specialty crops received aid.

The total of subsidies paid out by the Dominion Department of Agriculture in 1944 in British Columbia was $4,572,019. In many lines of farm production there was separate aid through price guarantees arising from export agreements such as those covering bacon, eggs and evaporated milk contracts.

All these arrangements are part and parcel of our anti-inflation and food export policies which are as important to securing the peace as winning the war. Without the full-hearted support of the public at large and without subscription to the limit to the Ninth Victory Loan these joint policies must be jeopardized. Failure by Canada in these commitments would be failure by Canada in her part toward securing the peace.

Not Forgotten Where It Counts

When members of both the M-S-A and Mission district Companies of the Pacific Coast Militia Rangers returned from the "stand-down" ceremonies, held in Vancouver on Sept. 30th, they expressed more than regret that Lieut.-Col. A. Leslie Coote, who might be termed the "daddy" of the Rangers, was not given recognition due him for his part in fostering and developing the home defense organization.

Col. Coote played an important part in the life of the Rangers as an organization and was in a unique position to do so. There is probably no other man so universally known and respected throughout the Fraser Valley who could have done the things he accomplished.

While Chilliwack might claim a priority to Col. Coote through his early and long residence there, he is intimately known in almost all, if not all, districts of the Fraser Valley, New Westminster and Vancouver. After Great War I he played an important part in fostering sports in the valley and Coote trophies were liberally sprinkled through various leagues as part of his effort to engender enthusiasm and interest.

His role in the Rangers is aptly portrayed in the following editorial from The Chilliwack Progress:

While most of the attention on individuals at the stand-down of the Pacific Coast Militia Rangers in Vancouver Sunday was centered on government and military leaders, it is safe to say that many of the men themselves were thinking of the fellow who had an idea, kept plugging away, got what he wanted and out of it created — the Pacific Coast Militia Rangers.

His name, all Rangers know, is Col. Leslie Coote. They are proud of him, both for himself and what he accomplished. For he was father, mother and, well, almost a nursemaid, to the Rangers.

It was Col. Coote, the man who emerged from the last war so much beloved by valley men who served under him, who returned from England with the idea that British Columbia needed a civil defence organization.

He went up and down this valley and into its little nooks and crannies to talk to the men who knew him, to spread his infectious enthusiasm for the project. He took his idea to high places and fought for it.

Since the Rangers were born he has shuttled back and forth all over the valley, talking Rangers, selling the Ranger idea, helping to keep it alive and prepared to do a job.

Now the job is done. But of the peans of praise lavished, and rightly so, on the Rangers Sunday for the job they did and the job they could have done, many a Ranger took a bow—for Col. Leslie Coote.

Meat Rationing

Whether Mr. and Mrs. John Public like it or not, meat rationing is here to stay. Since Donald Gordon made this blunt statement in Vancouver, it has cut a sharp wedge, The Kelowna Courier states, into the reactionary forces who have been opposing the ration system since it went into effect more than three weeks ago. The government no doubt realized its mistake when it included cold meats on the ration list, and it has made a compromise. So far it has been only a small section of Canada (other than the butchers) who have opposed the return of meat rationing, and if a Gallup poll was taken tomorrow among the house wives in Canada, we are sure they would be in favor of restricted meat buying.

There is little wonder why some of the war veterans, who have been prisoners of war at the hands of the Japanese and Germans, are disgusted with the attitude some Canadians are taking. They never saw a piece of meat all the years they were in a prison camp. On the other hand, millions of people in Europe are undernourished after having gone through five years of Nazi tyranny, while Great Britain — yes, the Great Britain who once stood alone during the Nazi blitz — has been forced to tighten her belt a little more since hostilities ceased. One would normally think Britain would be the first country to increase the meat ration, but this is not so.

Thousands of Canada's fighting men paid the supreme sacrifice on the battlefields, and the people who stayed at home, other than paying additional income tax, NEVER did feel the effects of this war. Many individuals who never knew what it was like to have a few dollars in the bank found themselves earning high salaries, and all the time the war was going on, they were living in a land of plenty. Is there any reason why some of the returned men are feeling just a wee bit disgusted with the attitude of a small minority?

At the beginning of September, there was only 48,000,000 pounds of meat in cold storage in Canada, though at March 1, 1944, when the first rationing period ended, there was at least about 150,000,000 pounds in storage in addition to poultry, fish and other foods. Then again in the overall food picture, in March, 1944, there were in Canada about 250,000,000 pounds of foodstuffs in storage, but at the beginning of last month, the total was only about 150,000,000 pounds.

Last week we saw where groups of people in Montreal tied up the retail meat industry until police finally took action. Thank goodness the people in Western Canada used more sense. Strikes will not improve things. They only make it more unpleasant for everyone.

Surely the people of Canada are not going to let the eyes of the rest of the world condemn our country as a land of selfish people; after our fighting men proved themselves so courageous? We think not.

NEW CPR AGENT

W. F. Burgess, formerly agent at Kaslo, has succeeded Geo. M. Ross as CPR agent at Mission City. Mr. Ross, after a short vacation, assumes the agency at Tadanac in the Kootenays.

Mr. Burgess entered CPR service in 1904 as a telegraph messenger at Nakusp. More recently he has been stationed at Oliver, Brilliant, Kelowna and Creston.

TO REVERSE COLORS FOR 1946 LICENSE PLATES

B.C. cars in 1946 will carry license plates with white letters and figures on a red background — the reverse of the current plates.

Inspector G. A. Wood, superintendent of the Motor Vehicle Branch, said no decision had yet been reached on whether one or two plates would be provided. To conserve war materials, B.C. autos during the war carried plates only on the rear.

Miss Jean McCulloch has joined the nursing staff at the Royal Columbia Hospital, New Westminster.

About 15 local men attended the tests for applicants for the customs job vacancy which was created by the retirement of T. Kirkby.

HNS BRINKER'S PRAYER

Forgive them, Father - they knew not
Our misery and our need.
Their apathy is surely caused
By thoughtlessness, not greed.

They have no way to visualize
The rags we call our clothes,
Their children still are warmly clad
And sheltered when it snows.

They cannot realize how cold
A little child can be
When clad in rags and newspapers
He wanders homelessly.

Their homes have felt no battle's shock,
Their ears, no cannon's roar.
Their garments never commandeered
By greedy conqueror.

How can they know that in our land
Whole families share a shirt;
A mother and her daughters take
Turns wearing a patched skirt.

Forgive those smug Canadians
Who did not heed our plea
"What can you spare that they can wear"
But hoarded selfishly.

Forgive them, Father — I give thanks
Their number was so small,
That most Canadians responded well
And freely to our call.

Most saw not ragged foreign folk,
Bereft and robbed by Hun,
"There stand, but for the grace
of God,
My wife, my girl, my son,"

Not just from our feeble lips
To them went the sad plea,
They heard as well "For inasmuch Ye give it unto Me."
—Edward Saint-John.

Canada has been invited to send 10 delegates to the World Youth Conference which opens in London, England, October 31. Youth organizations from all over Canada will select delegates representing Canadian youth in business, farm, labour, religious and racial groupings.

From the B.C. Capital

B. C. Power Commission, it is understood, is considering Shuswap Falls Falls as a possible site for hydro-electric power to supply the northern Okanagan Valley. The falls on the Shuswap River about 20 miles east of Vernon are said to have adequate power to supply an integrated distribution system for northern Okanagan cities, villages and farms.

A total of 353 British Columbia students are being assisted this year to attend university, normal schools, nursing schools and technical, vocational and art schools, under the Provincial Government's bursary and loan plan. Department of Education reported that the number was an increase of 43 over last year.

Pari-mutuel bets in British Columbia in the racing season just closed reached a total of $6,859,314, compared with $6,168,817 last year. Figures released by Hon. John Hart, as Minister of Finance, showed the Provincial Government's share as $468,148.18.

CBC NEWS ANNOUNCER

It's Earl Cameron's voice that listeners hear on the summary of the days' news over the Trans-Canada Network of the CBC.

Mr. Cameron is a news announcer because that's what he wanted to be — and it was almost that simple. He was working in the retail hardware business in Moose Jaw when the CBC talent scout arrived to conduct auditions. Not very long after that, the better business men of Moose Jaw saw one of their best depart for the east.

ABBOTSFORD DISTRICT COW PRODUCES 10,903 POUNDS OF MILK

Among the high cows in Canada having completed R.O.P. Records in August and September, is Glengarry Princess, with 10,903 pounds milk, 552 pounds fat, in the 365 Day Division, Mature Class. Princess is owned by W. Peyton, RR2 Abbotsford.

The good four-year-old Glengarry Dolly, produced 11,764 pounds milk and 542 pounds fat, also in the 365 Day Division. This cow is owned by Geoffrey Macdonell, Sardis.

In the two year old class, 365 day, Robin Hood Warbler was the high heifer in British Columbia, with 7,687 pounds of milk and 451 pounds fat, owned by Sherwood Farms, Limited, Burnie.

DECREASE OF PRODUCTIVE LAND NOTED BY EXPERT

There is no longer an abundance of good productive land to feed and clothe the peoples of the world, said Hugh H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, in a recent address. In fact, there was not a single acre to waste. Through the reports of 36 countries on soil conservation, it was known that soil was scarce throughout the world. There was barely enough to take care of the present populations if it were properly used, but it was still not being used properly.

In the United States alone, said Mr. Bennett, 230,000,000 acres of soil (land exceeding six times the area of New York State) had been ruined by poor cultivation or allowed to be devastated by erosion. The United States had only 460,000,000 acres of good farm land that would be sufficient to feed and clothe the population, if the soil was conserved and if the population became stabilized. Stabilization did not seem likely in the near future.

HOW MILK IS USED

Approximately 50 per cent of the total milk production in Canada goes into butter, 20 per cent to fluid milk sales, 10 per cent to cheese, 3½ per cent to concentrated milk products, 1½ per cent to ice cream and 15 per cent is fed and used on farms. Milk production has increased in Canada from 15.8 billion pounds in 1939 to 17.6 billion pounds in 1944, an increase of 11.6 per cent.

High quality eggs were unchanged.

Grade A large eggs are now 45 and 46 cents retail, 40 cents wholesale and 35 cents to producers. Grade A medium are 43, 38 and 33 cents.

Pullets and grade B are both 38 and 39 cents retail, 33 cents wholesale and 28 cents to producers.

BRITISH BOYS, GIRLS ADVISED TO JOIN YOUTH GROUPS

Military youth organizations established in Britain during the war are now being carried on with Government help, their object being to train the youth of the country, not for the defence of their homeland, but for the preservation of peace. Boys and girls are encouraged to join various youth organizations sponsored, but not controlled, by the War Office, the Air Ministry and the Admiralty.

In all cases the curriculum includes, in addition to pre-military training, special instruction in practical peacetime occupations. Thus the boys of the Royal Air Force's "Air Training Corps" are taught drawing and the use of wireless for civil aviation, the "Sea Cadets" learn cooking and office work in addition to astronomy, geography and mechanics. The girls of the "Girls Training Corps" will learn how to run homes or offices. All the youth organizations give courses of lectures on literature, drama, rhythmic dancing, and international questions. Special youth camps are to be established for practical training.

MILK CONSUMPTION IS INCREASED

The sugar shortage has brought about an increase consumption of milk due to reduction in the manufacture of soft drinks which consumes large quantities of sugar. The Agricultural Department of the Canadian National Railways reports that in Nova Scotia, restaurants are purchasing more milk from the dairies and offering milk drinks to the public as a substitute for the soft varieties.

Canada will have a two-year interim force drawn from all three services, prior to setting up a permanent army, navy and air force. Men enlisting will be signed up until September 31, 1947 and are being recruited on a voluntary basis from men still serving in the forces.

Character may be revealed as you sit up in the grandstand. But it can only be developed as you come down and play the game.

FORMER BRADNER RESIDENT RECEIVES FLYING CROSS

F/O M. McMath, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. McMath of Bradner, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, according to information which has just been given out a RCAF headquarters in Ottawa. No citation covering the award has yet been received. Mr. and Mrs. McMath, who are pioneer residents of the Bradner area, have five other sons in the armed services.

Value of X-Ray Shown In Answers To Many Questions

Control of Tuberculosis in a community depends on finding cases early and providing treatment quickly. Early T.B. can be cured if the patient receives treatment and he takes his cure seriously.

50,000 people are now actively ill with T.B. in Canada—enough to populate a city the size of Regina.

British Columbia is one of the three provinces in Canada who are embarking on programs to have the whole population X-rayed in the next few years.

Who should be X-rayed? Every adult in the community. In B.C. this disease is very rare among children under the age of 15. When it does occur in a child it is nearly always an adult who has spread the germ to the child and this source of infection must be found.

What does this cost? There is no charge. This service is brought to the community by the division of Tuberculosis Control of the Provincial Board of Health.

Does it take much time? No. The actual X-ray time is but a matter of seconds. History taking and dressing take up most of the time.

How will the individual know the result of the X-ray? As soon as possible after the X-ray a card is mailed to all persons who are negative. Those for whom further examination is required are asked to return for a larger X-ray and study of case. A shadow in the small film might not mean disease but needs a large picture. This service is also free.

What happens to those who are found to have T.B.? If a person has T.B. he is very fortunate if he finds it out in an early stage. In some cases it is only necessary to rest more and live a quiet life for a time. When active disease is found the person should go to a Sanatorium for a time. Arrangements for admission would be made through his family doctor, or, if he has none, through the Division of T. B. Control. British Columbia's sanatoriums are most modern.

Who pays the cost of Hospital care? The patient pays on his ability to pay. A very lenient assessment is made in this regard. The majority do not make any payment.

If a breadwinner has to undergo treatment what happens to his dependents? Special T.B. allowances are available to them where there is need and are applied for through the Social Assistance Branch.

In this district canvassers are giving their time to visit all homes. They will allot time for each person to attend the clinic for his or her X-ray.

the reading of the names of those who served by Fred Holtsbaum, President Branch 15, Canadian Legion, Abbotsford. In an address prior to the unveiling, Mrs. McMath spoke of the part the women and families had played during the war years. Mr. Holtsbaum welcomed the Veterans on behalf of the Canadian Legion and in extending an invitation to join the Branch, outlined the Legion's work over the past 20 years and gave a glimpse of future plans to assist the new veterans.

Speaking on rehabilitation H. Ellis, Secretary M-S-A Citizens Rehabilitation Committee, complimented the community on its interest, as indicated by the large gathering, and pointed out the need for all citizens to assist the veterans during their re-establishment period.

Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Paver, Mrs. Brown and Syd Smith assisted with the program giving musical selections, with Mrs. A. Money as accompanist.

Serving on the committee responsible for the arrangements were: Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Carmichael, Mrs. Hansen, Mrs. Sandstrom, Miss Underhill, Mrs. Brady, Mrs. Upchurch Jr., Miss A. Roche, Les Fatkins, A. Money, Larry Siemen, J. Scofield, Cliff Upchurch, W. Smorenburg and J. Dospital.

An enjoyable welcome-home dance brought the evening's program to a close.

Unless, in our homes, democracy is reborn every day, it will vanish from the face of the earth.

A monument to the Canadian Army was recently unveiled in Hengelo, in the Netherlands.

A Fleet at War: Two Million Troop Miles for Canadian Pacific

MONTREAL—Two and three-quarter million miles in Admiralty service—with two million of those miles as troop transports—is the proud record of the Canadian Pacific fleet in the German War, it has been revealed here in a review of the sea miles steamed for Canada and the United Nations up to V-E Day.

These wartime voyages represent the transportation through enemy-infested waters of three-quarters of a million service personnel and civilians and of three and one-half million tons of war material and food.

The 40 million meals served to troops and other government passengers during transport service alone outlines the magnitude of Canadian Pacific sea operations, until now cloaked by secrecy.

Special movements have included: Arabian kings and high dignitaries for Mediterranean conferences, 59,000 German and Italian prisoners of war for Canada, 23,000 native troops halfway round Africa at the critical point of that campaign and Newfoundland lumberjacks for a war job in Britain.

The toll among seagoing personnel was 272 known killed and 155 missing or prisoners of war. Eleven vessels, of 193,000 tonnage, were sunk by the enemy while one other, the Beaverhill, was victim of a marine accident in 1944.

Vessels lost represented more than half the 336,000 gross tons made available to the Admiralty in 20 Canadian Pacific ships

MINISTER TO TELL OF CONCENTRATION CAMP HORRORS

Four years in a German concentration camp taught Rev. E. V. Steele, intended missionary to Africa, many things about the SS men of the Reich Gestapo, and he will appear at the Abbotsford Church of the Nazarene on Monday evening, October 15, to tell of the harrowing experience of waiting days on end, expecting any morning to hear his name included in the lists of the "death bands" taken from his camp.

Captured, with some two hundred other civilians, from the Dutch steamship Zam Zam while en route to South Africa in 1941, Rev. Steele and his wife were impounded in separate camps on the German home soil, from whence Mrs. Steele was repatriated to this country eighteen months later, and enabled to rejoin their children who had remained in the homeland. Mr. Steele himself, however, was compelled to "sweat out" the remaining four years during which the Wehrmacht prolonged armed conflict with the Allies.

Rev. Steele, along with many who were not missionaries in the forced captivity, bears an outstanding testimony to the care of God over the lives of the prisoners while in German hands.

AMERICANS WANT BRITISH CARS

An United States officer who was so impressed with London taxicabs that he wants to ship a fleet of them to America has forecast a big U.S. demand for United Kingdom motor cars. In an interview with Mr. H. Simmons, United Kingdom motor manufacturers and traders, he said: "The American boys over here are just crazy about your cars and they should command a big sale over in the States". The United Kingdom models that he considered would attract the most attention with the American public include the famous sports car of average horsepower, the family saloon—the lines of which appealed to him immensely—and a second more powerful sports car. He claimed he could easily sell at least a thousand of the last type. U.S. troops while in England have paid many tributes to British-made cars, but the highest praise so far has generally been reserved for "small types" in which United Kingdom leadership is acknowledged.

WOODEN PROPELLER BLADE

A United Kingdom company has developed a new light weight propeller blade of a die moulded of compressed wood which is twenty-five per cent cheaper, and in many ways superior, to the best type of metal blade and will also enable air liners to carry eight additional passengers.

Fourteen adults and five children lost their lives through fires in B.C. during 1944.

FORMER RESIDENT APPRECIATES SUMAS PRAIRIE SCENE

"How Green is My Valley" is a popular theme with all ex-Fraser Valleyites. No exception is Mrs. C. H. McMillan, the former Agnes MacAdam, member of a pioneer family and well known in the Valley for her horsemanship. While visiting her mother, recently in Sumas Prairie, Mrs. McMillan was delighted to see again the greenness of her old home district, while still enthusing over her new one, a 320 acre ranch a few miles out of Princeton, B.C. One feature of the ranch country especially appealing to Mrs. McMillan is the good deer and elk hunting.

MISSION MILLS LOSE APPEAL OF DAMAGES

The Supreme Court of Canada Friday upheld two previous judgements without calling respondents in the case of Mission Saw Mills Ltd. against Gill Brothers of Mission, B.C., involving a wood delivery contract.

The court held valid a contract under which Gill Brothers purchased quantities of fir, cedar and hemlock at the mill. When terminated by Mission Saw Mills, Gill Brothers brought suit.

Mr. Justice Irvin Bird had awarded Gill Brothers recovery of damages, and the Court of Appeals affirmed the judgement.

BRITISH SHOES SAVED A LIFE

A wellknown firm of United Kingdom shoe manufacturers has received an unusual testimony to the hardwearing qualities of its goods. The testimony comes from a Belgian who bought a pair of golf shoes from them in 1941. Soon after, he was arrested by the Germans, he says. For 12 months he did hard labour — building concrete roads, digging, and coal loading. Throughout the year he wore his golf shoes. At the end of 1942 he managed to escape because, "thanks to my shoes nobody could hear me when I started running". Determined to reach England, he set out on a long march. He walked through France, over the Pyrenees and into Spain. That he did not lose his life on this formidable climb, he says, was due to the toughness and nonslip qualities of his shoes. Eventually he reached Britain — and the shoes proved good for another year's wear.

50,000 MORE MEN WANTED IN WOODS

Owing to the extra demands for forest products, special emphasis has been placed on the appeal of the Minister of Labor for 50,000 additional men to reinforce those now engaged in operations in the woods. Every man on the farm who can be spared after the harvest has been finished is required, and men in the cities are to be canvassed. This year the woods operations are of more national and international importance than ever. With an adequate force of workers in the woods all over Canada, home building in the Dominion will be helped next year to a large extent by the cut of sawlogs in the woods during the coming winter.

The pulp and paper industry, which fulfils the very important function of producing paper for Canada's great export trade and also for home consumption, will require a heavy cut of pulpwood, while the reconstruction of Britain and Continental Europe will call for huge quantities of lumber, and Canada is expected to meet a large part of these demands.

Installation of a large addition to the switchboard of the New Westminster telephone exchange is under way.

Lions Appeal To Citizens of M-S-A Area

The official record of ticket sales for a fund to build a new hospital in the M-S-A Area, shows that only between $3,000 and $3,5000 has been subscribed by the entire population of this area up to the present time. This is less than anyone should expect.

As team captains covering the M-S-A Area, we make this final appeal to the citizens of the Area before our volunteer workers commence a canvas for subscriptions.

These workers expect the people of M-S-A Area to respond liberally and buy to the limit of their resources.

We are sure that all the citizens of the M-S-A Area are proud of the community in which they live and we, therefore, look to the success of this campaign with great expectations.

We ask you to meet our canvassers in the spirit of friendly co-operation and good citizenship and to make your subscription at least the amount of five tickets.

PROVIDE BALLOT FOR SERVICEMEN HOME SINCE LIST CLOSED

All service personnel who have returned to British Columbia since the voters list closed Sept. 17 will be allowed to cast ballots in the Oct. 25 provincial general election, it was announced Tuesday night by Provincial Secretary George S. Pearson and Attorney-General R. L. Maitland.

Les. Eyres, MLA, who had made representations to both Premier Hart and the Provincial Secretary strongly favoring action to remedy the situation regarding the returned soldier vote, told The News this morning that he was "very happy this has now been done".

We can't put the world right over night. But we can put ourselves right and that's the best start.

Christie Harris Writes New Radio Script

Huntingdon's own Christie Harris, talented CBC scriptwriter, brings an amusing and unusual character to the microphone in her new program, "Over the Counter", which will be heard over radio CBC stations in British Columbia on Mondays at 2 p.m. The script centers around the activities of Mr. Gobacker, eccentric and lovable proprietor of Gobacker's General Store, and radio people are already predicting that this new character will win a warm place for himself in the affections of B.C. boys and girls. The leading role will be played by veteran west coast actor, Frank Vyvyan.

Strange Day Dreams
Designed for boys and girls in Grades 4 to 9, "Over the Counter" seeks to encourage wise buying and to describe something of the history of familiar merchandise and what goes into its preparation. Over Mr. Gobacker's counter goes advice as well as store goods.

The old shopkeeper has a habit of dozing off into day dreams, and when his radio listeners accompany him on these excursions they may well find themselves in the 16th century, or in Egypt, or anywhere, anytime at all.

For example, when Mr. and Mrs. Peck dropped in to buy some woollen and cotton goods they little suspected that they would be led by Mr. Gobacker into the stone age, through days of knighthood, and into the desert with the Arabs!

The author, Christie Harris, is herself a practical housewife and mother of two children, who sees to the managing of her own home in Huntingdon. She is a freelance journalist as well, for press and radio, and an active community worker in the Fraser Valley town where she lives.

Mrs. Harris created the highly successful "Tukwilla Valley" series, which was a favorite with the children on school broadcasts over a lengthy period.

CAME TO ABBOTSFORD IN 1943

Rev. John Peel Chosen Pastor Of Bethany Tabernacle In City

Was in Charge of Pentecostal Church; Assisted in Sunday School Work at Pine Grove and Gifford

Following two and a half years' work at the Pentecostal Tabernacle, Abbotsford, and additional services at Gifford and Pine Grove, Rev. John Peel has been appointed as pastor of Bethany Tabernacle, in Vancouver's Kitsilano district. He will assume his new duties Oct. 21. Rev. Peel's pulpit in Abbotsford has not yet been filled but it is believed that an appointment will be made in the near future.

Substantial progress has been made by the Pentecostal Church since Rev. Peel took over the pastorate in February, 1943, when he came with his family from Vernon. Mortgage on the church has been liquidated, there has been an increase in attendance and parsonage property has also been improved.

In addition to his duties in Abbotsford, Rev. Peel supervised Sunday School work at Pine Grove until January of this year, when the work was taken over by James McIntosh, Mrs. F. Hunter, Mrs. Violette and Mrs. Boyd. A new church was built on the old Higginson property in May and there is an enrolment of 45 in the Sunday School.

Rev. Peel also assisted at Gifford, where Albert Borg is now in charge of the Sunday School. The departing pastor was also secretary-treasurer of the M-S-A District Ministerial Association for the past eight months, and he has now been elected president of the Christ Ambassadors for B.C.

Mrs. Peel, who is well known as a vocalist, was superintendent of the local Sunday School for two years.

Canadian National Ships Have Good War-Time Record

Sailed 4,500,000 Miles in Submarine-Infested Waters

During nearly six years of war, vessels owned or operated by the Canadian National (West Indies) Steamships sailed more than 4,500,000 miles in enemy submarine-infested waters of the Atlantic and the Pacific. R. B. Teakle, general manager of the company, reported in a recent statement. All of the ships were in war service either as fighting ships or transporting troops, munitions, persons on war business, and foodstuffs to soldiers and civilians of the Allied Nations and to the peoples of countries freed from the Nazis.

As a single group of ships, the war record of the five famous "Lady" liners, which were so popular in peacetime with Canadian and American tourists to the West Indies, is perhaps unequalled by any other Canadian vessels. These boats alone made 221 voyages, totalling nearly one million miles. Three, the Lady Hawkins, Lady Drake and the Lady Somers, were sunk early in the war while assisting Canada's war effort on the seas. The Lady Nelson, also doing a war job, was torpedoed, salvaged and restored to service as Canada's first hospital ship. Today, she is senior vessel in this service. The Lady Rodney is serving as a Canadian

FRAME AND ROOF ONE NEW HOME A DAY AT CHILLIWACK

A crew of 150 men are pushing construction of 45 veterans' homes in a 50-acre subdivision at the southwest corner of Chilliwack city. Roofs are already on 11 houses and framework up for 16 while foundations have been poured for all the homes. Framing and roofing is proceeding at the rate of one home a day. Most of the homes are bungalow type and have two, three and four bedrooms. There are 20 different designs.

Commissioner Asks Support For Home Front Drive

Outlines Increased Calls for Salvation Army Services

There are more victories to be won in peace than there were in war, according to Commissioner Benjamin Orames, Territorial Commander for Canada of The Salvation Army. Speaking on behalf of the "Army's" Home Front Appeal, he warned that the cessation of general warfare had not brought Utopia.

The problems of bringing hostilities to an end and creating order out of the chaos of war were more complex than the problems of fighting the war, he said. The change-over of the domestic economy of Canada from war to peace will be far more difficult than was the change-over from peace to war production.

"The demands upon The Salvation Army for counsel and assistance in the rehabilitation of veterans are increasing in ratio to their return," said the Commissioner. "Salvation Army War Services supervisors served with the troops overseas and the men are turning to The Salvation Army here at home for help in problems beyond the scope of Governmental rehabilitation arrangements.

"The transition from army to civilian life is a crucial period for these men. Numbers have returned and will return uncertain about the future, undecided as to what to do, where to go. For guidance and help many are coming to our rehabilitation officers."

Realizing the needs of the Salvation Army, Rev. G. R. Tench, chairman of the Home Front Appeal Committee for the M-S-A district, is urging local residents to contribute to the fund to the limit of their ability.

TO SELL BARRACKS

Sale and removal of the huts on New Westminster-owned property, known during the war years as the Eight Street Barracks, is predicted soon, according to a letter sent to the City council by Tom Reid, M.P.

OUR plans are ready! B.C. Electric is out for the world's record in farm electrification. Just as soon as wartime controls of men and materials are relaxed we will begin our programme to electrify every farm within practical range of our distribution lines. Already thousands of farms in B.C. Electric territory are users of electricity—making the Fraser Valley the most high developed electrically of any similar rural area in Canada. But we want to make possible even wider use. Our ambition is to be the first electric company to say, "Electricity is now available to every farm in our territory where service is economically feasible."

PLANNING for TOMORROW'S FARMING

POST-WAR PRODUCTION OF SMALL FRUITS

By: L. R. Wilson, Secretary-Treasurer, Federated Coast Growers' Assoc.

(NOTE—This is the 7th in a series of comments by well-known authorities, written expressly for the Weekly Press of British Columbia).

Small fruits production in the Fraser Valley dates back nearly fifty years. The berry industry, however, did not expand to any great commercial extent until about 1910.

For twenty years following, raspberries were produced in large commercial quantities throughout the Fraser Valley and were considered an attractive and profitable industry. The "Cuthbert" was practically the chief variety and proved a very satisfactory all-round berry, being of fine appearance, good flavor and possessing good shipping, canning and jam qualities. About 1932 the "Cuthbert" received a severe setback and since then it has practically become extinct. Although repeated efforts have been made to re-establish this variety they have been unsuccessful. The present large acreage of raspberries is of various types of a sour variety and it is safe to say that until a raspberry similar to the "Cuthbert" can be developed, the bulk of the raspberry output will be dependent upon export and jam markets. New varieties are being introduced, principally the "Newberg" and "Washington" but it will take a few years to determine their success.

Raspberry production has greatly increased during the past few years and this season (1945) is expected to reach the highest point since 1920. At present the demand for processed raspberries comes from many markets found in local and Eastern Canadian jam manufacturers and exports to the United Kingdom. With the prevailing prices, raspberry production is a profitable business.

Strawberry production has likewise proved a profitable industry. Present-day demands greatly exceed the quantity being produced. This demand comes not only from processors and jam manufacturers, but a ready market exists with the consuming public for fresh crated strawberries. It is reasonable to assume that present day strawberry production can be greatly increased and still returns the growers prices that will be profitable.

The "British Sovereign" is the prevailing variety. This strawberry, introduced some years ago, has proved very satisfactory, not

RECIPES

Grape Brown Betty

3 cups blue or white grapes
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons mild-flavoured fat
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 cups soft stale bread crumbs
Dash of salt
Wash grapes and press pulp from skins. Eat pulp to boiling point and boil gently 5 minutes. Rub through a sieve to remove seeds. Combine pulp, skins and the 1/2 cup sugar. Melt fat, add remaining sugar, crumbs and salt and mix together. Place alternate layers of grapes and crumb mixture in a greased baking dish having last layer crumbs. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°, for 40 to 45 minutes. Serve hot. Six servings.

Grape Upside-Down Pudding

3 cups grapes, preferably blue
1/3 cup sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
Dash of salt
Plain one-egg cake batter
Wash grapes and press pulp from skins. Heat pulp to boiling point and boil gently 5 minutes. Rub through a sieve to remove seeds. Combine pulp and skins and cook together 5 minutes. Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt. Blend with a little of the grape mixture then add to remaining grape mixture and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Pour into a greased baking dish (one quart size) and leave to cool. Meantime make a plain one-egg cake batter and spread carefully over the cooled grape mixture. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°F, for 30 minutes, then reduce heat to 350°F and bake 15 minutes longer. Turn out on a large deep serving dish and serve hot. Six servings.

RADAR STATION

In order to apply the wartime miracle of radar to increase the safety of commercial air travel, an experimental radar station has been installed at Stevenson Field, Winnipeg, by Trans-Canada Air Lines, according to S. S. Stevens, T.C.A.'s superintendent of communications and electronics. The installation, which was made possible only by the loan of appliances by the R.C.A.F., is not of a permanent nature, and is being designed for experimental use by the company's communications department. The National Research Council, Ottawa, is co-operating with T.C.A. in the tests.

only from volume of production, but as an excellent berry for dessert and jam purposes. During the early years of the war large production necessitated exporting several hundreds tons yearly to the United Kingdom. These berries were processed in SO2 and made into jam for the Armed Forces in Europe. Presently reduced production and the tremendous demand for jam strawberries for the past two or three years have almost entirely eliminated them from the retail stores, and practically the entire crop has been processed in SO2 or packed in sugar and frozen to be used for the manufacture of strawberry jam.

Both strawberry and raspberry production are being assisted by subsidies being paid to the jam manufacturers. So great has been the demand for processed strawberries that manufacturers have exceeded the basic price and encouragement has been given in this manner to increased production.

The British Columbia Department of Agriculture, through its Provincial Horticultural Branch, has surveyed the present strawberry situation and has indicated the Government's willingness to assist in the studying of strawberry conditions and make helpful recommendations in an effort to overcome possibilities of plant disease and to recommend the planting and cultivating of varieties most suitable to the different areas.

No rehabilitation plan can be complete without a place for the Returned Soldier in the small fruits industry. Strawberry production particularly affords an opportunity for the small land owner and demands no great output of capital. Under present conditions three to five acres of strawberries in full production will provide an attractive income for an average family.

Savings, in the form of Victory Bonds, will provide the average man or woman with sufficient capital to begin the production of berries and these bonds will likewise provide carrying charges for one or two years, which is all that is necessary from planting until time of production.

In the meantime there is no better investment than that of Victory Bonds. They will open the way for an independent living and profitable return from an industry that has become and will continue to be an important asset to the Fraser Valley.

Wise! ANT!

During the warmer months of the year the ant works hard to find his food. But he is always careful to lay away a generous portion which he does not touch until he really needs it. And so, because he is wise he survives. Each of us has the opportunity to buy and put away Victory Bonds and War Savings Stamps. Let us continue to do so, regularly. And let us be sure to keep them until we really need them.

Growing Crops Flourish... When WATER IS ADDED to Sunshine

TO attain perfection in flavour and the maximum of food value many fruits require an amount of sunshine found only in arid and semi-arid regions; but in such regions the rainfall during the growing season must be supplemented by irrigation.

In British Columbia 150,000 acres of land are under irrigation and crops to the value of $17,000,000 are produced annually from these lands. These crops are for the most part specialty crops and do not compete with the produce of the more humid areas. They comprise fruits, nuts and vegetables that are essential to the high standard of living enjoyed by the Canadian people; and since a substantial part of them is available for export they contribute materially to the maintenance of Canada's balance of trade.

Many prosperous communities have grown up in the Province around irrigation projects. These projects depend on the even flow of water during the growing season, which is secured, usually, by damming valleys to store the surplus water that runs off in the spring.

The Provincial Government, through the Water Rights Branch of the Department of Lands and Forests, maintains a staff of hydraulic engineers to see that water is apportioned fairly, keeps records on streams and helps farmers plan for proper development and use of the water made available. Anyone interested may secure full information from the nearest District Water Rights Engineer or from the Department at Victoria.

Standard Oil to Drill For Oil In Nearby Washington Area

Standard Oil Company of California is obtaining oil and gas leases covering approximately 25 square miles in Whatcom County, Washington, and will drill a well in the area next year. This information was received by R. D. Baker, president and managing-director of Standard of B.C.

The oil company last fall made a seismograph survey of this region, located between the town of Blaine and Ferndale, just below the Canadian border. This area is subdivided into small farms and dairies involving approximately 700 land-owners.

WORKERS TRANSPORTED

Without the special train services operated by the Canadian National Railways to various war plants, Canada would not have been able to play nearly so great a part in the war effort as she did. It is estimated that from the inception of these services to V-J Day, no less than 41,972,048 were carried to and from their work on C.N.R. specials. Eighty-seven railway cars were modified to create more space for the workers, with benches installed longitudinally in each car, three or four to a car.

Kamloops may get a daily air service.

OBJECT OF BARRAGE

Canada's Department of Agriculture has been undergoing a barrage from Canadian soldiers stationed in the Netherlands and has had to call in army reinforcements to cope with it. The situation became drastic when the department had to examine more than 1,000,000 tulip bulbs sent by thoughtful soldiers to friends and relatives in Canada. Every one had to be inspected for disease and insects. Now the army is helping, and the tulip front has been restored to relative quiet.

A real veteran of show business is Cy Mack, who is now being heard on Canadian Cavalcade Monday nights at 8:00 p.m. over the CBC's Trans-Canada network. A Nova Scotia boy, he has trouped Canada from coast to coast many times since he started in show business back in 1930. He was in England for three years, appearing on stage, films and radio. Back in Canada he joined the CBC, handling the national news and major sports events. Each Monday, Cy Mack interviews special guests presenting the human interest stories behind the headlines.

Knee-deep in Bulbs
• You'd better not whistle "Tip-Toe Through the Tulips" to botanists and inspectors of the Plant Protection Division of the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa. They have been not only on their toes, but literally up to their knees in packages of tulip bulbs, sent to relatives in Canada by members of the Armed Forces stationed in Holland.

The Canadian boys in Holland, in keeping with the good old tradition, believe in "saying it with flowers," but as blossoms won't stay fresh long enough to make the journey to Canada, they have sent the little brown bulbs that will push up through Canadian soil next spring in a riot of reds, yellows, pinks and mauves.

The headache of all this, as far as the botanists and inspectors of the agriculture department are concerned, is the fact that the bulbs have to be examined for plant disease. However, only about one per cent have had to be destroyed.

History certainly does race on. It is only a matter of months since we were reading that the people of Holland were eating bulbs to stave off starvation. And now, in the fall of 1945, we have the news that bulbs are being sent to Canada to fulfill their original mission . . . brightening up the landscape.

It's all very heartening, isn't it?

Three former Canadian National Steamships Pacific Coast vessels, the Prince Robert, Prince David and Prince Henry, were taken over by the Royal Canadian Navy in 1939 and were converted for war service as auxiliary cruisers. Serving in the Pacific, the Prince Robert captured the German merchant ship, Weser. Converted again, this time to an anti-aircraft cruiser, the Prince Robert was assigned to protecting troops and supplies, crossing the Atlantic to Great Britain. On D-Day, she was part of the protective fleet guarding the convoy of troops and supplies, which included her two sister ships, the Prince David and Prince Henry, the first vessels to land troops on the French coast. Today, the Prince Robert is carrying medical supplies, food and clothing for Canadian prisoners of war and internees of the Japanese and assisting in their transportation back to Canada. These ships have been in continuous service since the war began.

THE LONG ROAD BACK

Factories are now changing back to peacetime production, and the huge job of catching up with telephone demands has begun. The products of the factories are being apportioned among the telephone systems of the continent. We are getting our share of telephones, wire, cables, switchboards, automatic equipment, and so forth, but it will be many months before factory deliveries enable us to make telephone installations on a normal basis.

At the time of writing, there are over two million names on the waiting lists for telephone service in North America.

LIKE thousands of other Canadians, farmers will welcome the 9th Victory Loan as another opportunity to save money to provide for future plans.

Victory Loans have provided an excellent means of helping the war effort, at the same time contributing to our own personal welfare.

Canada needs more money now . . . to make loans to foreign countries so that they can establish credits which will enable them to buy food and other things which they require.

This food will come from Canadian farms; these goods from Canadian factories. When we help to create markets for our farm produce abroad . . . and when we help to keep Canadian factories busy . . . we help to maintain good prices for the things that Canadian farms produce.

Victory Bonds also provide a reserve fund of working capital for our own use . . . so handy to have so many times. Any bank will buy Victory Bonds at any time, or loan money on Victory Bonds if we need cash.

. . . and for our future plans, we'll have the money required for things we want to do . . .

Get ready to buy more Victory Bonds this Fall. Buy double this time—the same rate of savings as in previous loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12 month period.

FACT AND FICTION
By ART

At least once during the existence of each and every one of us on this old planet there comes a time when the opportunity of making a fortune seems to be knocking at our door—and it's not a knock made with gloved and timid hands, but the knock of Opportunity made with hands encased in knuckle-dusters, so that all may hear and heed. To some of us the knock is the clarion-call to get out and buy oil stock, to others it is the green light which impels them to hasten out and invest in real estate or patent rights to some new gadget, the profits from which will lift them lock, stock and barrel to that long-hoped-for address—Easy Street.

Such an Opportunity (call it mirage if you wish) appeared before me some years ago, before the war, and I've had many a laugh over it since that time.

Going over from the old home town, Vancouver, to the United States for a vacation under the Stars and Stripes of Uncle Sam, I found myself one summer evening on a downtown street in Tacoma, just passing time until the next boat left for Seattle. For the want of anything else to do, I joined a large crowd watching an open-air demonstration being given by a dentist in front of the offices of a large dental firm, which had offices in many coast cities. It took but a moment to find out that the lecturer-demonstrator-dentist who was holding forth was a pastmaster in elocution and a smart lad if ever there was one. He had secured the usual down-and-outer to sit in the chair and have an ailing molar fixed free of charge, and was demonstrating the advantages of modern dentistry as compared to the old yank-'em-out system of bygone days. But his crowd-holding piece-de-resistance was a yarn about his dear old Dad back in Michigan. I can still hear him:

"Now you folks should have known Dad; boy, oh boy, Dad sure knew the score and never WORKED a day in his life! No sir, he just got out a pencil and paper and used the old bean—bought himself a half-section, used a quarter-section to live on and . . . but just stick around folks, and when I get through this demonstration I'll give you all the details—my Dad work!—No sir, he just used the old bean!"

Just about that time the SS Indianapolis whistled at the pier for the return trip to Seattle, but the temptation to remain and hear the secret of living without work glued us to the ground—I would have missed a whole fleet of such boats to hear the explanation which was coming.

Shortly after, the down-and-outer's tooth was eased from its moorings, the booth closed up and the crowd dispersed without the slightest explanation of how dear old Dad beat the system which keeps us working about 50 weeks in every year.

Well, I caught the last boat back to Seattle feeling quite disappointed, but after many years of mulling it over, I am still willing to lay odds of 6 to 1 that the smart lad and his dear old Dad back in Michigan are still doing the same as you and I—WORKING for a living!

Sold; Tenants Remain

A change in ownership of one of the largest business blocks in Mission City is confirmed today by Reeve Alex Hougén of Sumas who, with his brother-in-law, A. F. Miller of Abbotsford, has acquired the two-storey building known as the Fisher-Hougén Building from Mission City Investments Ltd.

Built about 1932, the reinforced concrete and brick structure has a frontage of 51 feet on the south side of Main street between James and Welton avenues, and a depth of 60 feet. The property extending through to Railway street.

A. C. Fisher of Mission City and Dr. O. R. Hougén, of Vancouver and formerly of Mission, were the principals when the block was built. Dr. Hougén is a brother of Reeve Alex Hougén.

Present tenants, both on the Main street floor and of the offices and apartments upstairs, will remain the same Reeve Hougén states but a part of the first floor premises recently vacated by the Bus Depot Cafe will be renovated at once for a new jewelry store.

Reeve Hougén, member of a well known Matsqui family, has been a member of Sumas Municipal Council for 12 years, the first year as a councillor and the 11 consecutive years since as a reeve. His associate in the Mission realty transaction is a retired hardware merchant who was 30 years in business at Lloydminster, Sask., before coming to the Fraser Valley recently and making his home in Abbotsford.

GLEANINGS FROM OTTAWA

community has been the subject of stories in the newspapers and films featuring Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney. But have you heard of an unusual Boys Town?

On the shores of Lac des Francaise, near Joliette, Quebec, 60 delinquent boys have established a camp under the direction of Father Albert Roger of Montreal, and his two assistants. The boys organize their own election campaign, and elect their own mayor and aldermen. Each alderman has charge of one of the six log cottages which comprise the camp.

Besides the mayor and council, the campers also elect each year a chief of police and a chief fireman and a ministry of roads. Infringements of camp rules are taken up in the regular Saturday morning court in the council hall, where cases are heard and defended.

The original site of the camp was purchased by the Quebec provincial government. The Chambre de Commerce des Jeunes de Montreal handles the expenses of the boys, which come to about $1 a day for the three-month camp period.

The boys from the camp, taken from the ranks of those in their early teens who have been in trouble with juvenile court officials, are selected by Father Roger.

It's an idea that will pay rich dividends in citizenship.

Pacific war cut off importations from the East Indies. Extraordinary demands for tobacco resulted in nicotine being placed under controls. Military requirements absorbed all available supplies of DDT. Nicotine, by the war, is still very scarce. A. M. W. Carter, Director of Pesticides, reports.

In most liberated European countries, there is a desperate shortage of meat. As a great food-producing nation, Canada must, can — and will — help to meet the emergency. The job will not be finished at the year's end. Food scarcities in Europe will continue until the next harvest.

How soon can we bridge the gap? Livestock marketings are normally at their heaviest in the last four months of the year. If we are to help feed the hungry peoples of devastated Europe, this is the time to make our greatest effort.

This year, Europe is relying on Canada for a minimum of 789 million pounds of beef, pork and canned meat. Up to the end of August, only 479 million pounds had been sent.

To do our part, we must reduce our own consumption of meat and also assure that everyone in Canada gets a fair share. That is why rationing is necessary.

MEAT RATIONING ADDS TO EVERYONE'S WORK
The producer who slaughters, the retailer who sells, the consumer who buys and eats—they all play a vital part.

AS A CONSUMER, HERE IS HOW YOU CAN CO-OPERATE

1. Try to plan your meat purchases before leaving home by determining what cuts you intend to buy and their approximate weights.
2. Make sure you have enough valid coupons and tokens to cover your proposed purchases by referring to the Consumer Coupon Value Chart and the Coupon and Token Calculator. Copies may be obtained from your Local Ration Board or Ration Branch.
3. Know the dates your "M" coupons become valid.
4. Do not buy more meat than you really need.
5. Avoid shopping at rush hours.
6. Be patient. Remember — your butcher may have inexperienced help.
